

Speaking Engagements / Corporate Wellness (new section on web page SERVICES)

Having worked in health care over a decade, Dr. Olden has a unique perspective on stress in the workplace and how integrating mindfulness and other approaches such as acupuncture can counteract the effects of stress on the body. As such, he has been invited to share his knowledge on holistic health care, mindfulness, acupuncture, and yoga with audiences of all levels.

Dr. Olden has led dozens of workshops and lectures for physicians and other health care providers, health professionals in training, and the community at large. He is available for speaking engagements and corporate wellness events. If you are interested in learning more about having Dr. Olden lead a workshop or series of workshops for your organization, please contact him here. (link to contact page)
